

Experimental Methods At Monash University

Our research at Monash University concentrates on the reconstruction of nano-structured and crystalline objects through a fundamental understanding of the diffraction phenomenon.

Location: Monash University, Clayton campus
Supervisor: Associate Professor Andrei Nikulin

Further Information for Applicants:

Applications may be made by students who have completed at least 3 years of a Relevant BSc degree. Application forms are available from the CXS Available Scholarships webpage .

